

Dehesa de los Canónigos Solideo 2022

VINTAGE CLIMATE

Warm and dry year define the 2022 vintage.

The winter and spring were characterised by a lack of water, the summer started very early and there was a constant heat wave.

A little irrigation and proper canopy management were key to keep the clusters protected from the strong sunshine.

In the weeks leading up to the harvest, which began on September 19th, the temperature range helped to preserve the acidity and grapes primary aromas.

TASTING NOTES:

Deep ruby color.

Aromas of black fruits, such as black plum, blackberry, blackberry, and licorice stand out above the balsamic notes. Hints of chocolate and sweet spices, coming from its aging in barrels.

Velvety on the palate, giving way to a structured and powerful wine with very good acidity and sweet tannins. Pleasant menthol notes appear on the finish, adding freshness. A great red wine for aging.
